

THE RICHMOND DISPATCH--TUESDAY, DECEMBER 2, 1884.

REMARKABLE ESCAPE FROM DEATH.

INTERESTING WEDDING OF A WELL-KNOWN PHILADELPHIA LADY.

The following remarkable statement, lately made to one of our reporters, is verily true: "Henry Mitchell, residing at No. 812 Jarvis street, a prominent member of the congregation of the Watch of the World at the Philadelphia navy-yard, Mr. Mitchell happened to know that we had lately devoted considerable time to the investigation of cases which had been fully resolved by the fact that now famous physician, Brown's Iron Bitter. After meeting the reporter the other day in front of Independence Hall said: "I can tell you of something that may interest you." I knew an elderly lady dead, who told me she had been stricken with a fit of apoplexy, and had lost her life. From the very jaws of death by using Brown's Iron Bitters. She is an intimate family acquaintance of mine, and I knew she had been very sick and was hardly expected to live from her bed, but she had recovered, and then returned to me again on the street, in apparent good health. I expressed my pleasure and surprise when she informed me that she had never expected to leave her house alive again, and that she had been miraculously cured by using Brown's Iron Bitters."

"Who is the lady and where does she live?" our reporter inquired. "Her name is Mrs. Margaret Springfield, and she resides at No. 812 Pine street. She is the widow of Captain Springfield, who is well known in the southern section of the city." Captain Mitchell then offered a personal introduction to Mrs. Springfield, and an appointment was made. They accordingly met, and the lady, who had received the approval of the supreme pontiff, the Archbishop of Baltimore, will be made a prince of the Church. The Archbishop said in his letter in regard to the Council, respecting the case of the churches in the United States, that if Cardinal McCloskey's health had permitted him to preside over the Council, he would have presided over the Council. It is unusual for the Pope's delegate who has represented the Pope on occasions of such importance to be called to the Holy See, and I would wonder, People were calling at my house continually asking about me, and from day to day I was supposed to be dying. I am quite well now, and I say that I consider myself the most fortunate man in the whole case of Brown's Iron Bitters. I was bedfast for three weeks, and for at least five weeks I could not eat anything. My greatest trouble was excessive pains in my side and breast, and I had the worst kind of indigestion. I could not even sit up, because I could not even lift my head, and was completely prostrated all over. For some time I really more dead than alive, I know I contracted a very heavy cold, and it seemed to me that I must die. I was so ill I could not rise, and got so bad that I could not even sit up. In sheer desperation I resolved to try Brown's Iron Bitters. Because of something I had read about it, I sent for a bottle and commenced taking it, and in a few days I began to feel better, and I began to feel a sense of relief at once. I continued using it, and it seemed to drive out the pains in my breast. I began to gain a little strength, and my appetite gradually returned. Brown's Iron Bitters appeared to be just the thing my doctor said it was. I have no doubt, as he has said, I believed it saved my life. Certainly I never took anything in my life that did me much good."

Our representative then remarked to Mrs. Springfield: "What do you expect to gain by using Brown's Iron Bitters?"

Colonel Mitchell said: "I think it ought to be done as a philanthropic duty. If you know of anything that will benefit mankind, it ought to be done as a philanthropic duty. Then give her credit, saying it is not for my notoriety, but I am perfectly willing that the world shall know of anything that has been of so great benefit to me, and I can certainly do so to Brown's Iron Bitters, though it is to my friends, who are equally

surprised, that I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters."

Mr. Mitchell, after a few moments' conversation, left, and the reporter followed him to his residence, where he found him in his study, looking over a copy of the "Daily Spy," and a newspaper.

Colonel Mitchell said: "I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia, and pronounce it a very superior tonic. I have recommended it to my friends, who are equally

surprised, that I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters."

Colonel Mitchell then said: "I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia, and pronounce it a very superior tonic. I have recommended it to my friends, who are equally

surprised, that I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters."

Colonel Mitchell then said: "I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia, and pronounce it a very superior tonic. I have recommended it to my friends, who are equally

surprised, that I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters."

Colonel Mitchell then said: "I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia, and pronounce it a very superior tonic. I have recommended it to my friends, who are equally

surprised, that I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters."

Colonel Mitchell then said: "I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia, and pronounce it a very superior tonic. I have recommended it to my friends, who are equally

surprised, that I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters."

Colonel Mitchell then said: "I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia, and pronounce it a very superior tonic. I have recommended it to my friends, who are equally

surprised, that I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters."

Colonel Mitchell then said: "I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia, and pronounce it a very superior tonic. I have recommended it to my friends, who are equally

surprised, that I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters."

Colonel Mitchell then said: "I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia, and pronounce it a very superior tonic. I have recommended it to my friends, who are equally

surprised, that I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters."

Colonel Mitchell then said: "I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia, and pronounce it a very superior tonic. I have recommended it to my friends, who are equally

surprised, that I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters."

Colonel Mitchell then said: "I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia, and pronounce it a very superior tonic. I have recommended it to my friends, who are equally

surprised, that I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters."

Colonel Mitchell then said: "I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia, and pronounce it a very superior tonic. I have recommended it to my friends, who are equally

surprised, that I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters."

Colonel Mitchell then said: "I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia, and pronounce it a very superior tonic. I have recommended it to my friends, who are equally

surprised, that I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters."

Colonel Mitchell then said: "I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia, and pronounce it a very superior tonic. I have recommended it to my friends, who are equally

surprised, that I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters."

Colonel Mitchell then said: "I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia, and pronounce it a very superior tonic. I have recommended it to my friends, who are equally

surprised, that I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters."

Colonel Mitchell then said: "I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia, and pronounce it a very superior tonic. I have recommended it to my friends, who are equally

surprised, that I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters."

Colonel Mitchell then said: "I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia, and pronounce it a very superior tonic. I have recommended it to my friends, who are equally

surprised, that I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters."

Colonel Mitchell then said: "I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia, and pronounce it a very superior tonic. I have recommended it to my friends, who are equally

surprised, that I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters."

Colonel Mitchell then said: "I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia, and pronounce it a very superior tonic. I have recommended it to my friends, who are equally

surprised, that I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters."

Colonel Mitchell then said: "I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia, and pronounce it a very superior tonic. I have recommended it to my friends, who are equally

surprised, that I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters."

Colonel Mitchell then said: "I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia, and pronounce it a very superior tonic. I have recommended it to my friends, who are equally

surprised, that I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters."

Colonel Mitchell then said: "I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia, and pronounce it a very superior tonic. I have recommended it to my friends, who are equally

surprised, that I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters."

Colonel Mitchell then said: "I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia, and pronounce it a very superior tonic. I have recommended it to my friends, who are equally

surprised, that I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters."

Colonel Mitchell then said: "I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia, and pronounce it a very superior tonic. I have recommended it to my friends, who are equally

surprised, that I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters."

Colonel Mitchell then said: "I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia, and pronounce it a very superior tonic. I have recommended it to my friends, who are equally

surprised, that I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters."

Colonel Mitchell then said: "I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia, and pronounce it a very superior tonic. I have recommended it to my friends, who are equally

surprised, that I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters."

Colonel Mitchell then said: "I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia, and pronounce it a very superior tonic. I have recommended it to my friends, who are equally

surprised, that I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters."

Colonel Mitchell then said: "I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia, and pronounce it a very superior tonic. I have recommended it to my friends, who are equally

surprised, that I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters."

Colonel Mitchell then said: "I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia, and pronounce it a very superior tonic. I have recommended it to my friends, who are equally

surprised, that I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters."

Colonel Mitchell then said: "I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia, and pronounce it a very superior tonic. I have recommended it to my friends, who are equally

surprised, that I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters."

Colonel Mitchell then said: "I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia, and pronounce it a very superior tonic. I have recommended it to my friends, who are equally

surprised, that I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters."

Colonel Mitchell then said: "I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia, and pronounce it a very superior tonic. I have recommended it to my friends, who are equally

surprised, that I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters."

Colonel Mitchell then said: "I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia, and pronounce it a very superior tonic. I have recommended it to my friends, who are equally

surprised, that I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters."

Colonel Mitchell then said: "I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia, and pronounce it a very superior tonic. I have recommended it to my friends, who are equally

surprised, that I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters."

Colonel Mitchell then said: "I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia, and pronounce it a very superior tonic. I have recommended it to my friends, who are equally

surprised, that I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters."

Colonel Mitchell then said: "I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia, and pronounce it a very superior tonic. I have recommended it to my friends, who are equally

surprised, that I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters."

Colonel Mitchell then said: "I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia, and pronounce it a very superior tonic. I have recommended it to my friends, who are equally

surprised, that I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters."

Colonel Mitchell then said: "I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia, and pronounce it a very superior tonic. I have recommended it to my friends, who are equally

surprised, that I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters."

Colonel Mitchell then said: "I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia, and pronounce it a very superior tonic. I have recommended it to my friends, who are equally

surprised, that I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters."

Colonel Mitchell then said: "I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia, and pronounce it a very superior tonic. I have recommended it to my friends, who are equally

surprised, that I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters."

Colonel Mitchell then said: "I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia, and pronounce it a very superior tonic. I have recommended it to my friends, who are equally

surprised, that I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters."

Colonel Mitchell then said: "I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia, and pronounce it a very superior tonic. I have recommended it to my friends, who are equally

surprised, that I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters."

Colonel Mitchell then said: "I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia, and pronounce it a very superior tonic. I have recommended it to my friends, who are equally

surprised, that I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters."

Colonel Mitchell then said: "I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia, and pronounce it a very superior tonic. I have recommended it to my friends, who are equally

surprised, that I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters."

Colonel Mitchell then said: "I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia, and pronounce it a very superior tonic. I have recommended it to my friends, who are equally

surprised, that I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters."

Colonel Mitchell then said: "I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia, and pronounce it a very superior tonic. I have recommended it to my friends, who are equally

surprised, that I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters."

Colonel Mitchell then said: "I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia, and pronounce it a very superior tonic. I have recommended it to my friends, who are equally

surprised, that I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters."

Colonel Mitchell then said: "I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia, and pronounce it a very superior tonic. I have recommended it to my friends, who are equally

surprised, that I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters."

Colonel Mitchell then said: "I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia, and pronounce it a very superior tonic. I have recommended it to my friends, who are equally

surprised, that I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters."

Colonel Mitchell then said: "I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia, and pronounce it a very superior tonic. I have recommended it to my friends, who are equally

surprised, that I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters."

Colonel Mitchell then said: "I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia, and pronounce it a very superior tonic. I have recommended it to my friends, who are equally

surprised, that I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters."

Colonel Mitchell then said: "I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia, and pronounce it a very superior tonic. I have recommended it to my friends, who are equally

surprised, that I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters."

Colonel Mitchell then said: "I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia, and pronounce it a very superior tonic. I have recommended it to my friends, who are equally

surprised, that I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters."

Colonel Mitchell then said: "I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia, and pronounce it a very superior tonic. I have recommended it to my friends, who are equally

surprised, that I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters."

Colonel Mitchell then said: "I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia, and pronounce it a very superior tonic